

UNDER THE DRAG.

PROSTRATE WOMAN THERE, AND UNDER RUNAWAY HORSES FEET.

There Were Four Horses in the Team, and a Harrow Behind The Drag—Mrs. Ralls of Monroe Passed Under all and Escaped Alive.

Mrs. Cliff Ralls, lies at her home near Monroe seriously injured. The fact that she is not in her grave is almost miraculous. Last Tuesday, she was knocked down and run over by a runaway four horse team, which also dragged over her a combined clod-masher and harrow, such as is in use on many farms.

The accident happened while Mrs. Ralls was alone in the field with the outfit. She often works a field, and was so engaged on this occasion. In the team of four horses there was one animal that was not well broken. It became necessary for Mrs. Ralls to stop the team to adjust a check rein on the unbroken horse. As she did so, the animal shied and knocked her down. The incident started the whole team and as they dashed away, Mrs. Ralls was prostrate under their feet. Then came the clod masher, a machine so heavy that four horses are usually required to draw it. Attached to it behind is an ordinary drag harrow arrangement, in which however, the teeth slope backward. Mrs. Ralls passed completely under this awful contrivance, and for a wonder, lives to tell the tale.

The flight of the horses attracted the attention of others in the vicinity and help was soon at hand. Mrs. Ralls was taken home where she now lies with many bruises and cuts, but happily with no injury so serious as to cause alarm.

Mrs. Ralls is a daughter of Wesley Hinton of Monroe and a niece of Mrs. Martha Burnett of this city.

HER BURIAL.

And Something About her Career— Was a Native of Southern Benton.

Mary Alice Winkle who died at her home on the island south of Corvallis on April 26, was born in Benton county near Monroe August 26 1872, and grew to womanhood in that locality. In 1891 she was united in marriage to Gus Winkle of Corvallis, who with two bright little children the eldest a daughter of 11, and the youngest a son of 5, are now bereft of one who was ever a faithful wife and a devoted mother.

Her parents are W. H. and R. W. Levaugh who with a number of brothers and sisters reside in Linn county near Harrisburg. Mrs. Winkle had a large circle of relatives in the south end of Benton amongst whom are some of the most highly respected people in the county. She was a member of the Christian church of Harrisburg having united with that church about 4 years ago. She loved the church of her choice was a consistent Christian and a zealous worker in the church, and in all things in her daily conduct; her maternal instructions, and her dealing with those surrounding her home circle. She tried to exemplify the life which the Great Master has taught us all to follow always.

Mrs. Winkle was a member in good standing of the Degree of Honor Lodge of Harrisburg, under whose auspices the beautiful and impressive funeral obsequies were performed. A large number of friends mourn the untimely loss of one who was a faithful wife and mother, an affectionate daughter and a loving sister.

The floral gifts offered at the grave were very beautiful and in great profusion. These and many other acts of kindness are greatly appreciated by the bereaved family who met around the grave at the burial services.

Oh, that a touch of childish faith— A ray of heavenly bliss— Could come to every weeping heart In such an hour as this! At the great and final judgment, When the hidden comes to light, When the friends which death hath parted, Shall again in bliss unite, At the bidding of our Savior "Come ye blessed to my sight" What a gathering of the loved ones When we'll meet each other there! J. D. Howell.

Mrs. F. L. Miller gave a farewell party in honor of Mrs. Cordley Saturday evening.

UNDER A MOUND NOW.

Alice Pearson Rugg—She Died Thursday Morning—The Last of Five.

Alice Pearson Rugg was buried at Oak Ridge yesterday afternoon. She was the last of five children born to Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Pearson of Southern Benton. Years ago she was well known in Corvallis where she was employed in the dining room of Mrs. Hemphill's restaurant. After that she went to Portland, where six or seven years ago she was married to Jack Rugg. A year ago she visited the family in this county, in company with her husband. She arrived at the farm home of her parents about two weeks ago, being then very low with consumption, and from the effects of the malady, died Thursday morning. She was 36 years of age.

A GOOD TIME.

In Store for the Children From Six to Sixty Years of Age Next Saturday.

Next Saturday morning our country cousins will be on hand to enjoy with us a free eye-feast in the form of a circus pageant and trained animal parade, which will be given by Norris & Rowe's big shows at 11 o'clock. The parade will be the introductory number of a gala day of amusement introducing to the people the scores of gaily costumed performers and animals which are to participate in the two performances that are to follow. There will be massive elephants and stately camels and dromedaries, prancing steeds with daring riders and drivers, richly carved tableau chariots and cages, scores of pretty ponies, rare wild animals from land and sea, and comical monkeys, apes and baboons. There will be various kinds of music and funny clowns to gladden the heart and tickle the fancy of all. The entire calvacade will be bedecked in rich and costly regalia and trappings presenting a spectacle of professional wealth and beauty heartily surprising and enjoyable to men and women alike, while to children it will be a veritable glimpse of fairyland.

A Sure Thing.

It is said that nothing is sure except death and taxes, but that is not altogether true. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption is a sure for all lung and throat troubles. Thousands can testify to that. Mrs. C. B. VanMetre of Shephertown, W. Va., says: "I had a severe case of bronchitis and for a year tried everything I heard of, but got no relief. One bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery then cured me absolutely." It's infallible for croup, whooping cough, grip pneumonia, and consumption. Try it. It's guaranteed by Graham & Wortham druggists. Trial bottles free. Reg size 50 cents & $1.00.
